SUPER BOWL XLI DRINKING GAME

Take one drink:

- Every time Peyton Manning's playoff/college misfortunes are mentioned
- Any time Mike Ditka or Dick Butkis is referenced
- If Bears backup quarterback/party boy Kyle Orton is shown
- for each field goal
- for each interception
- any time there's an aerial shot from the blimp
- if a Will Smith song is played
- Any time an announcer makes an inadvertent sexual innuendo (example: "He came at him quick from behind on that play.")
- If a random CBS celebrity with no relation whatsoever to football is shown
- If the coin flip is tails
- If you see the same commercial twice
- Whenever it's mentioned that Tony Dungy and Lovie Smith are close friends
- When Kansas City Chiefs coach Herm Edwards is shown in the crowd

Take two drinks:

- If the coin flip is heads
- If Springfield's Marty "Sign Man" Prather makes an appearance
- If a commercial is shown featuring the beer you're drinking
- If former Arizona Cardinals' head coach Dennis Green's "They are who we thought they were" tirade is replayed
- If Tony Romo is mentioned (poor guy)
- If Eli Manning is shown looking unhappy

Take five drinks:

- If a member of the Cincinnati Bengals is inexplicably arrested during the game
- If Bears quarterback Rex Grossman forgets to show up for the game
- If Bears' linebacker Brian Urlacher kills someone on the field. (Do so quietly and solemnly.)
- If you hear anyone say "You're with me, leather."

At Halftime:

- If Prince plays "Purple Rain," take one drink
- If Prince plays "Pussy Control," take three drinks
- If Bono jealously storms on stage and talks about world issues, take four drinks
- If Prince has a wardrobe malfunction at halftime, open the bottle and start chugging
